The Virgin Islands National Guard History Office acts as the institutional memory of its events and activities. VING-HO gathers, preserves, makes accessible, analyzes, and publishes the history of the organization in order to make the Commander and his staff more effective and successful in their mission.

The VING History Office:

- Prepares The Annual Command History;
- Collects and Maintains Oral History Interviews With Key Personnel;
- Administers The VING Oral History Project
- Manages historical assets and museum artifacts or exhibits;
- Responds To Historical Inquiries;
- Supports Leader Development and Participates in Public Information and Visitor Services
- Conducts Military History Education and briefings;
- Prepares Historical Manuscripts For Publication;
- Maintains Liaison With Other Historians, Historical Offices and Historical Organizations.
